Art Unit: 3641

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 10-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lawrence et al. in view of Engsbraten, Waldock and Conrad.

Lawrence et al. teach the basic idea of varying the composition as it is being made and pumped into the bore hole, for example at col. 1, lines 45-54. Variation of the amounts and specific notoriously well known ingredients would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill. Engsbraten, Waldock and Conrad further teach variations of ingredients or amounts to obtain controlled strength and energy. In Engsbraten, see the Abstract and, col. 4, lines 6-10 and col. 5, lines 2-12. In Waldock, see the Abstract and col. 1, lines 39-55. In Conrad, note the Abstract and col. 1, line 45-col. 2, line 19. It is well settled that optimizing a result effective variable is well within the expected ability of a person of ordinary skill in the subject art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980), In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955).

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
